V. COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

21. Shipcom denies the allegations in Paragraph 21 of the Amended Complaint.

22. Shipcom denies the allegations in Paragraph 22 of the Amended Complaint.

23. Shipcom denies the allegations in Paragraph 23 of the Amended Complaint.

VI. CAUSE OF ACTION

24. Shipcom repeats and reasserts its responses to the allegations above with the same force and effect as though fully set forth here.

25. Shipcom denies the allegations in Paragraph 25 of the Amended Complaint.

26. Shipcom denies the allegations in Paragraph 26 of the Amended Complaint.

VII. JURY DEMAND

27. Shipcom acknowledges that the plaintiffs demand a trial by jury, but denies that the plaintiffs are entitled to the relief they seek.

VIII. PRAYER

28. With regard to the plaintiffs' relief sought, and all subparts thereto, no responsive pleading is required. To the extent a responsive pleading is required, Shipcom denies that the plaintiffs are entitled to the relief sought, including subparagraphs a–f, and any claim or implication by the plaintiffs that this action is appropriately maintained as an opt-in collective action or any other type of class action or that there are others similarly situated to the plaintiffs.

AFFIRMATIVE AND OTHER DEFENSES

Without waiving the foregoing denials and admissions, and pleading in the alternative when necessary, Shipcom pleads the following affirmative and other defenses and reserves the right to plead additional defenses that may become apparent during the defense of this lawsuit:

FIRST DEFENSE

The plaintiffs fail to state a claim against Shipcom upon which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

Shipcom, at all times, acted in good faith to comply with the FLSA and with reasonable grounds to believe that its actions did not violate the FLSA, and Shipcom asserts a lack of willfulness or intent to violate the FLSA as a defense to any claim by the plaintiff for liquidated damages.

THIRD DEFENSE

The plaintiffs' claims are barred, in part, by the provisions of Section 10 of the Portal-to-Portal Act, 29 U.S.C. § 259, because actions taken in connection with the plaintiffs' compensation were done in good faith in conformity with and reliance upon written administrative regulations, orders, rulings, approvals, interpretations, and written and unwritten administrative practices or enforcement policies of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour

Division of the United States Department of Labor. This may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

FOURTH DEFENSE

The plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the provisions of Section 11 of the Portal-to-Portal Act, 29 U.S.C. § 260, because any acts or omissions giving rise to this action were done in good faith and with reasonable grounds for believing that the actions or omissions were not a violation of the FLSA. This may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

FIFTH DEFENSE

Even assuming, arguendo, that Shipcom had in fact failed to properly pay the plaintiffs for any of the activities alleged in the plaintiffs' Amended Complaint (which it did not), such activities do not constitute compensable work under the FLSA, and furthermore, such activities were not an integral and indispensable part of the plaintiff's principal activities of employment and are not compensable. This defense may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

SIXTH DEFENSE

The plaintiffs' Claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the provisions of Section 4 of the Portal-to-Portal Act, 29 U.S.C. § 254, as to all hours during which the plaintiff was engaged in activities which were preliminary or postliminary to his principal activities or incidental to them. This defense may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated person.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

The plaintiffs' claims are barred, in whole or in part, by the doctrine of de minimus non curat lex. This defense may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

Because any acts or omissions by Shipcom giving rise to this action do not constitute willful violations of the FLSA, the claims against Shipcom are subject to the two year statute of limitations. This defense may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

NINTH DEFENSE

Assuming, arguendo, that Shipcom violated any provision of the FLSA (which it did not), such violation was not pursuant to a uniform policy or plan. The plaintiffs' alleged injuries were not proximately caused by any unlawful policy, custom, practice and/or procedure promulgated and/or tolerated by Shipcom. This defense may also apply to the claim of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

TENTH DEFENSE

The entire collective action Amended Complaint seeking class-wide relief must be dismissed, as the plaintiffs cannot satisfy the requirements for maintenance of a collective action under Section 216 of the FLSA, or otherwise. The named plaintiffs are not similarly situated to or an otherwise adequate representative for the persons whom they purport to represent and furthermore, there are no employees of Shipcom who are similarly situated to the plaintiffs, as that term is defined and/or interpreted under the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

Certain interests of the alleged putative group that the plaintiffs purport to represent are in conflict with the interests of all or certain sub-groups of the members of the alleged putative group.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

The plaintiffs' claims are barred to the extent the plaintiffs failed, refused, and/or neglected to mitigate or avoid the damages complained of in the Amended Complaint, if any. This defense may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

The plaintiffs' claims are barred by the equitable doctrines of waiver, judicial estoppel, collateral estoppel, res judicata, unclean hands and/or laches. This defense may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Shipcom has not willfully failed to pay the plaintiffs any wages and/or other monies claimed due, and there is a bona fide, good faith dispute with respect to Shipcom's obligation to pay any sum that may be alleged to be due. This defense may also apply to the claim of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

FIFTEEN DEFENSE

The plaintiffs and all alleged potential class members have been paid and/or received all compensation due to them by virtue of their employment with Shipcom. All or portions of the claims set forth in the Amended Complaint are barred because the plaintiffs consented to, encouraged, or voluntarily participated in all actions taken, if any.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

The plaintiffs are not entitled to an award of prejudgment interest if they prevail on any or all of their stated claims. This defense may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

Shipcom is entitled to offset any and all damage amounts recovered by the plaintiffs by an amount equal to any overpayment of wages or compensation. This defense may apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

The plaintiffs are only entitled to one satisfaction for any established unlawful conduct and their claims for damages are limited by the applicable statutory maximum. This defense may also apply to the claims of some or all of the class of allegedly similarly situated persons.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

The court lacks subject matter jurisdiction over the claims of Kehn, Woods and any putative opt-in plaintiffs because the defendant reclassified the individuals who were Trainers, Travel Coordinators and Accounts Payables and compensated Kehn and the other Trainers, Woods and other Travel Coordinators, and the individuals working in Accounts Payables for overtime using the fluctuating workweek method. Thus, the Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction over these claims because they are moot since there is nothing in controversy.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

The claims of Plaintiffs and any putative opt-in plaintiffs are barred because the work performed falls within exemptions, exclusions, exceptions, or credits provided for in the FLSA. 29 U.S.C. §§ 207, 213(a), 213(b). For example, inter alia, Plaintiffs were employed in a bona fide administrative capacity under section 13(a)(1) of the Act as one: (1) who were compensated on a salary or fee basis at a rate of not less than $455 per week, exclusive of board, lodging or other facilities; (2) whose primary duty was the performance of office or non-manual work directly related to the management or general business operations of the employer or the employer's customers; and (3) whose primary duty included the exercise of discretion and independent judgment with respect to matters of significance. See 29 U.S.C. § 213(a)(1); 29 C.F.R. § 541.200.

Therefore, Shipcom respectfully requests that the Court ultimately dismiss this action with prejudice, order that the plaintiffs and the individuals they seek to represent take nothing, enter judgment in favor of Shipcom, award Shipcom costs and reasonable attorneys' fees, and grant it all other relief to which it is justly entitled.
